Bio

Being able to use my creative mind and to grow are things that I find crucial in my career, and that is why I choose to become a Graphic Designer and Illustrator. Being able to extract ideas and work through the design process is something that I truly love doing. I see it as a challenge and an opportunity to learn and to improve my skills.

I can work by myself or with a team of creative people. I enjoy the process of creating an idea that suits the company's brand. I am very proficient in time management and meeting deadlines. I enjoy the challenges of troubleshooting and refining design solutions for my clients.
